

E Lottery Syndicate Games On The Internet Today

There is no denying that gambling is a very big business in the world today it is practically everywhere you look and will be in every town you visit in one form or another. The biggest form of gambling that can be found across the world today is in fact lottery, it actually becomes more popular when a society is going through a financial crisis. When you add technology into the equation you get an e lottery craze as tickets become much easier to buy via online merchants.

You may have noticed the sudden rise in the popularity of gambling in 2010 with many new Casino company websites advertised on TV, in fact if you live in a major town you may have seen actual buildings being built to house a casino. For those lottery players that would not be without a ticket, 2010 starting 2011 was an exciting time with the introduction of a few new e lottery syndicate companies.

The term e lottery simply means lotteries online it was a term used a lot more back when the internet was new and the Microsoft e browser was the leading way to search the internet.

You will find a quick introduction to 3 such e lottery companies below however they do not provide a service to buy single lotto tickets but provide a method for customers to gain more chances for less money.

3 e Lottery Syndicate Online Systems

LoveMyLotto is a very new business to enter the world of jackpot games, the product was launched at the start of January 2011 and presents 21 player teams as a way to buy more entries for less money. Play with this e lottery company and you will gain access to the Euromillions the Millionaire Raffle the Lottery and the Premium Bond draws via one package from a choice of 3 deals.

Players witnessed another great attempt to create a syndicate company ready for 2011 the product is named Youplayweplay, they did first launch at the beginning of 2010 but it took them some time to get off the ground. With the Youplayweplay e lottery syndicate players can get access to the Thunderball game, the Euromillions and the National Lottery via a Gold Bronze or Silver Syndicate.

Big Fat Lotteries is a syndicate company many players prefer to steer clear of and mainly due to past experience with the company they used to trade as. BFL started at the end of 2010 and provide players a way to enter up to 14 different games, each syndicate has a different maximum of team players and can be up 100 depending on the draw entered.

Using any one of the 3 e lottery syndicate companies above allow other players from abroad to play games they would not have access to. Members get a personal account to check winnings payments and the latest results.