New Volcano Island off Coast of Yemen

How To Spend Your Christmas Lottery Winnings

This post is for is for any lottery winners claiming prizes over £3000 and one idea of how to spend your Christmas lottery prize winnings.

Claim Piece Of New Yemen Island

Go visit the recent Yemen volcano eruption area and stake claim to your piece of the new land mass which appeared on the 29th of December 2011, this new land mass of the east coast of Yemen is situated between the Haycock Island and Rugged Island, Nasa as you would have hoped managed to capture and record the event and rising smoke plume.

The idea of taking a trip to Yemen and claiming a piece of the new island would not be for every lottery winner that is for sure, but for those dreamers out there looking to do something very different and would contemplate the idea of visiting the new volcanic island in Yemen now is your chance, but before you do rush off here is a little advise, wait until it has cooled and stopped smoking first.

New Yemen Island Youtube Video

Here is a video for you just in case you are going to spend your lottery winnings on a flight and boat trip to your new dream land, although after watching the new Yemen Island on this youtube video you may just change your mind and join us in a lovemylotto syndicate for the new year instead.

It is not in English

I thought about it then noticed I may need quite a few diggers - then again I guess you could always sell your bit of land making a profit on your journey and lottery winnings.
